7) The failure to obey the measures taken by the judge or the election poll committee in order to perform the elections of the organs regularly and properly.

c) Provisional exclusion from membership; is the exclusion of the member from membership of the chamber or the commodity exchange for a minimum of two and a maximum of twelve months. In case where any member, who is imposed of a penalty of condemnation, performs any actions that require the same type of penalty within a term of five years, he shall be provisionally excluded from membership.

d) Long-term exclusion from membership; is the member's expulsion of the registration of the membership from the chamber or the commodity exchange and from the trade registry for a five years period of time. In case that the member, who was imposed of a provisional exclusion from the membership, necessitates the imposition of a penalty of condemnation with in three years from the exclusion shall be imposed of a long-term exclusion from membership.

The penalties stated in this article shall be imposed by the assembly upon the proposal of the disciplinary board. The principles on disciplinary offence and remedies shall be set out in a regulation enacted by the Ministry.

Conducting a disciplinary inquiry

ARTICLE 88. – The disciplinary inquiry related with the members of the chamber and commodity exchange shall be conducted by the disciplinary board of a chamber or commodity exchange.

The disciplinary boards shall appoint one of their members as an inquirer and propose a penalty upon the report submitted by the inquirer. The member conducted the inquiry shall not attend to the meeting at which the penalty proposal is discussed.

Commencement of the disciplinary inquiry

ARTICLE 89. – The boards of directors, upon the denunciation or the complaint or in the case of learning the behavior directly ex officio, are obliged to decide, in ten days, whether to initiate a disciplinary inquiry or not.

Upon the transmission of the decision of the board of director to initiate an inquiry, if the disciplinary boards decide on the formation of the crime, they either have to propose a penalty or, if they decide that no crime is committed, therefore there is no need for a penalty, at most in two months period of time. This period of time can be extended by the decision of the board of directors, if necessary. The disciplinary inquiry shall be concluded in one year at the latest.

Disciplinary inquiry proceedings, in any case, have to be commenced in one year from the date of the act or behavior. If a disciplinary inquiry is commenced due to the acts constituting a case to criminal action, the inquiry shall be commenced within one year from the date of the finalization of the criminal court decision.

Right of defense

ARTICLE 90. – In disciplinary inquiries and pecuniary penalties that shall be given, it is compulsory to transmit the accusation to the relevant member in a written form of notification, ask for his defense and grant a period of minimum ten days for the preparation of his defense.

The impact of criminal inquiries

ARTICLE 91. – In case that a member, whose act gives rise to a subject of disciplinary action and decision, is claimed at criminal court for the same act, this situation does not prevent the inquiry to be commenced and a disciplinary penalty to be given.

With the exception of the case of acquittal regarding that the action is not performed or not performed by the accused, the commencement of a disciplinary inquiry about actions subject to the criminal case which resulted in acquittal shall depend upon the character of the act which may necessitate a disciplinary inquiry independently and separately from provisions of criminal legislation.

Notification of decisions

ARTICLE 92. – Disciplinary penalties shall be notified in a reasoned form in ten days to the relevant persons. The relevant person may object to the Supreme Disciplinary Board for the disciplinary penalties and decisions regarding not imposing penalties, with the exemption of warning, within fifteen days from the date of notification.
